Hey Scott,

I was thinking about you, in the professional sense, and wanted to share some thoughts with you. I think it's important to tell people things especially when it is recognized how much of an impact they are making. I wanted you to know just what a difference you are making in many people's lives.

I was reading somewhere some words that you wrote about how important it was to you to bring something to kids and peoples lives different experiences that they wouldn't otherwise get a chance to do, and that it was important to you to educate, etc...

I was thinking about just how much of an impact you have made on my classes and some that you are not even aware of. You truly have a gift, and I find it admirable how you share it with others. I want you to know that you are truly a special person, and I am glad that I have gotten the chance to know you and see your work. It is really awe-inspiring, and exciting to watch.

And...just so you know, as I was thinking these things, I decided I would share them with you and let you know that what you do does not go unnoticed, and all the work you do definitely does affect others that otherwise would not get the chance. I am someone that thinks a lot...(sometimes too much), and if I was in your shoes, I would really want to hear this. So, hence the email. Please take it for what it is worth, and have a wonderful day!

Sincerely,
