

Dear Paul Dwinell:

Paul I appreciate your technical support and being able to answer my question at least giving me a way to fix my problems. The Virtual Reality software and hardware is marvelous and fairly simple to use. You don't have to be a computer wiz to learn how to use it. I have found this to be one of the coolest and innovative pieces of technology I ever used. This equipment allows you to incorporate many EAST aspects into one specific process. It forces you to ask other of help because there is no way one person could possibly put together a good tour by themselves.

Thank you,
